

When a taxpayer derives income under section CC 1(1), section EI 6 of the ITA allows the person to apportion that income between the income year in which it is derived and any five later income years.